Shag-A-Licious

The Beach Ball Blast was just that—a Blast!
We had a great turnout, lots of appetizer contributions as well as yummy dinner fare. And who can forget the homegrown North Carolina beach music provided by the Kistenmachers? Thanks Kathy for being our DJ and teaching some of the braver folks how to get out there and do the Shag. Kent your sound system was great. You both added a lot to the atmosphere. Thanks also to Rick at Sunrise Landscaping for contributing generously so we were able to giveaway the great door prizes. Bob Pierce was nice enough to allow us to use his boat for rides on the Lake. While Steve Ferrell was the official photographer for the day. Kudos to you both.

As you know, this time we held the party at the end of Lake Brandt Dr.. By doing that we make it possible for folks who are not so sure of foot to be able to attend. We hope everyone feels a part of this wonderful community by us having a “moveable feast” (setting up in a different area each time).
Last but certainly not least, we want to let all of you who help us set up or tear down know that you are very much appreciated. We are thankful for the community support.

Farmer's Market in Our Backyard

Have you had a chance to walk over to Carpenter Village for the Western Wake Farmer's Market on a Saturday morning yet? There are so many yummy things to choose from that it makes it hard to decide what to get. But to help you out the vendors let you sample their offerings. Everything is fresh and locally grown and there's even a homemade sausage vendor, grass fed beef vendor, fish vendor, several bakeries and so much more.
Each Saturday they have local musicians perform so you can stroll to the beat. Last week Karl and Matt of "SHMaK" performed from 9:30-11:30 with classic rock and pop guitar songs. On Jun 27, Whole Foods Market of Cary will be demonstrating how to cook with local ingredients.

The market will run each May until November, on Saturday from 8AM—Noon. They have a website:
www.westernwakefarmersmarket.org where you can sign up for their newsletter. They were even featured on YouTube recently:

See you there, rain or shine. You've got to go and check it out!!

Fun Ideas

Did you know that the Cary Senior Center in Bond Park has a quarterly directory of lots of fun things to do for anyone 55 or older? It's called Creating Active Retirement Years. You can get one sent to you for free by either going to the Senior Center to sign up or calling 469-4081. The directory lists events, classes, resources and trips. Many are so popular that you need to sign up early. Next issue is coming out in late July.

Service Recommendations

From time to time we like to let you know about service providers that our neighbors have had a great experience with. Following are a few new ones:

The Repperts were very pleased with the work of Fairway Window Washers. They clean both inside and out for a charge of $6 per window. Can't beat that!! Contact the company at 338-2204.

Lou Benoit recently had all the duct worked cleaned in her house and wanted to let you know about the folks who did the work. They are Infinity Air Cleaning. They use the brush and vacuum system which takes anything from your ducts and deposits it into bags for neat and tidy removal. They also will clean any area in your house they may have dirtied. They are prompt and Lou was pleased with the job. You can contact Wayne or Charles at: 845-1957. Be sure to mention Lou's name.

I recently had both a great experience with Todd Clark from Absolute Air care. He did a yearly checkup on my A/C system as well as an emergency call. Both times he was very thorough, professional and reasonably priced. I am reassured to know that I can call on him in a pinch and that he'll take care of the job without taking advantage of an emergency by overcharging. His number is 572-1800.

Do You Have Suggestions?

If you have any ideas for volunteer opportunities, please let us know. We would like to include a column in the newsletter occasionally to alert people to the different ways we can give back to our community or our country.

Many of us may feel we don't have enough time to volunteer but it always seems that if you ask a busy person to do something they are the ones who can find the time. It's the ones with time on their hands that can't seem to squeeze something in. Most often it's the givers that get the most reward from helping others.

Missing Something?

There were three items left at the Beach ball Blast that do not belong to the Social Committee. Maybe they're yours? They are: a plate with a fruit design on it, a cream colored bowl and a long slotted spoon. If these are yours you can contact Charlene Lloyd to claim them. .... And thanks for bringing whatever was in or on them!!

Tables For Rent

Do you have an upcoming event that requires more table space—a dinner party, family coming, yard sale, card night? The Social Committee has (12) 6 foot tables and

(3) 8 foot tables that you can rent for $5 each. They are available anytime except when we have a party planned. You can contact Nancy to arrange to pick them up.

I believe that you don't have to change friends if you understand that friends change
